1. The National Congress of the Defenders of Peace, which was to have been held in Costa Rica [REDACTED] was canceled principally because of the inability of the sponsors to obtain a meeting place.
2. A secondary reason is the strong anti-congress feeling in Costa Rica, which the sponsors of the Congress have decided would do more political harm than good to the Communist cause in Costa Rica. The only alternative, which has been more or less forced upon the Congress sponsors, is the determination to raise enough money to send Costa Rican delegates to the Congress for Peace and Democracy to be held [REDACTED]
